"Wily this matter has been put off till so near the close of the session, and then aprung upon the assembly, at an unexpected moment, when the files are crowded with important business, and attenuated to be rushed through on rail road spaced we do not claim to know; but we trust that every opponent of the system of giving away the public lands, to be squandered by unprincipled speculators, will stand firm, and defeat this preference of the public domain and the public conditions.

We presume that this attempt to steal a march on the People has been deferred till almost the inst day of the ression from the conviction of the Land Phrases and their Lobby agents, that any easier movement would raise a storm through the Lingth and breadth of the State which they could and withstand a moment. Whether this characteristic piece of Legislative, or Lobby strategy will serve their turn and secure a quasi endorsemestof their Land Grabbing schemes from a thin thouse, at the very heel of the Session, depends upon the honesty and fidelity of Mombers. If they vote according to their own convictions, or the well known, oft-expressed and rooted opinions of their constituents, no memorial in favor of Laud Grabs can pass either Senate or Assembly.

as their Private Sceneary; but the office was un-known to the statutes and the compensation of the officer, which has heretofore been $600 per annua, was allowed the Executive department under the name of "Clark Hite." Judging from the past acts of the present legislature, it will not repeal the law making this allowance, and the dignitary, will have the nice little salary of $1.-600 per annum —$350 more than the Governor himself receives. We understand this comfortable berth is designed for a certain Senator of dis tinguished ability, whose term of office expires the present year, and whose constituents are not likely to insist upon his representing them again. The legislature is liberal this winter.

Those of the 25th we made a survey and examina whole of the 24th.

On the 25th we made a survey and examination of the passage across the Flats known as the North or old Channel.

In this channel, there appeared to be no material alternation. The water in its shallowest portions was found to range from nine and a half to ten feet in depth. During the examination we placed buoys made of supry casks at the following points, viz: The first off Point Huren, in twelve feet water; the second at Grassy Point; the third at the point where the course is changed to Notth East to go over the Flats in eieren feet water; the fourth off the deep hole in eight feet water; the fourth off the deep hole in eight feet water; the fourth off the deep hole in eight feet water; the fifth at the elbow Stake.

These booys are transpersed with anchored stakes bearing white and red flags. The buoys and stakes are all to be kept on the starboard hand by vessels bound up the river. We examined other reported channels but found them not at all feasible.

Gentlemen:—Herewith we hand you our report of examination made at St. Clair Flats, on the 24th and 25th of March, 1854, and sfire due deliberation we manually recommend the expenditure of all monics, either by the General Government or private enterprise, upon the South Channel, and for the following reasons:

deliberation we mutually recommend the expenditure of all monics, either by the General Government or private enterprise, upon the South Channel, and for the following reasons:

First—It is the most direct route; being nine miles shorter from Lake St Clair to Lake Haron, and this channel can be passed by sailing vessels with leading winds, which will not enable them to pass the old or north channel.

Second—There are no obstructions, either above or below the eleven feet soundings given above, as the channel opens into Lake St. Clair, and the river above the water deepens from eleven to eighteen, twenty and forty feet.

Third—The south channel can be opened to pass vessels drawing eleven feet of water, by dredging eight hundred and fifty yards in length, three hundred feet wide, ond an average of three feet in depth, and by placing a light or some other conspicuous object, say twelve feet above water at the entrance, and at two or three other points on the bank, it could be navigated by all classes of vessels at night.

Fourth—The South channel enters Lake St. Clair below Point Huron, which has always been an obstacle that could not be passed without serious difficulty, in using the old or north channel. [Note: We would recommend the map herewith enclosed for fall particulars of soundings made by Captains McComb in 1842, and re-surveyed by Captains McComb and Cahrield in October, 1853, which soundings they state are correct, and which have not varied in the whole time, except in the rise and fall of the water over the whole chain of Lakes] in the rise and fall of the water over the whole chain of Lattes.]

Freelead—That we tender our thanks to Mr.

Resolved—That we tender our thanks to Mr. R. F. Johnson, of the Detroit Daily Advertiser, for the interest he has taken, and the assistance he has rendered us in our examination of the various channels above named; also to Capt. Wm. Caverly, of the steamer Romeo, for his prompt and ready attention to the desires of the Committee in giving up the entire control of his steamer to us, and allowing us to take her in every direction over the Flate that was deemed necessary to make our examination.

Mr. Biair is the regular party nominee. Mr. Itarrabee is not, simply because he was unable to obtain the nomination. He has always approved of party nominations, has been a party candidate for Judge himzelf, and now turns about and casts reproach upon his own former course by disregarding the decision of the Democratic convention, because it did not happen to result favorably to his own interests. This patriotic conduct, on his part, ought to be suitably rawarded by the electors of the Third Circuit, by repudiating his claims to the office altogether.

Mr. Blair is the gentleman who moved to enforce the gag-tule on the Anti-Nebraska resolutions, in our State Senate and by his vote helped to kill them.
